

Call for Abstracts

20th Annual Safar Symposium

Multi-Departmental Trainees' Research Day

May 18, 2023 | 2pm - 5:30pm

Who May Submit an Abstract

Postdoctoral fellows, interns/residents, pre-doctoral students, medical students and undergraduates from the following departments: Anesthesiology & Perioperative Medicine, Critical Care Medicine, Emergency Medicine, Neurological Surgery, Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation, and WISER.

Submission Requirements

Work not previously published is eligible. Work previously presented at a professional meeting in the current academic year is still eligible; however, the work cannot have been presented at a prior Safar Symposium.

Detailed submission guidelines—including the required abstract format and the abstract cover page—are available on the Safar Center website.

Carefully read and refer to the online guidelines for preparing and submitting your abstract. Abstracts that do not adhere to the guidelines will be rejected.

Deadline

Abstracts must be emailed with the abstract cover page to SafarTRD@pitt.edu by 5 pm, Thursday April 6, 2023.

Notification

The communicating author will be notified of their abstract's status during the week of April 17. Session details will follow for abstracts accepted for either oral or poster presentation.

Poster Presentations

Either oral or posters will be presented between 2-5:30pm at the University Club. Instructions for the sessions will be provided to the submitting author of an accepted abstract. Presentations will be judged by faculty experts.

Category Winners

Authors with the strongest abstract in each research category will receive a cash prize.
